

Disney's Art of Animation Resort Unveiled

LAKE BUENA VISTA, Fla. – Work has begun on an exciting new resort hotel built around the themes of Disney animation, Walt Disney World Resort announced today. Disney's Art of Animation Resort will be one-of-a-kind, featuring family suites designed around four themes: The Lion King, Cars, Finding Nemo and The Little Mermaid. Crowned by a 35-foot-tall model of King Triton, the family-friendly resort will have themed room interiors in its nearly 2,000 new units — 1,120 family suites in The Lion King, Cars and Finding Nemo wings and 864 themed rooms in The Little Mermaid wings. Suites will have both a living room and a bedroom.

"These themes have both compelling storylines and vivid visuals which will come together to create a truly memorable, immersive resort experience," said Eric Jacobson, senior vice president of Walt Disney Imagineering. "With more multi-generational families vacationing together, guests are looking for places where they can play together and stay together. This resort was designed with the needs of families in mind, as we continue the Disney tradition of providing a great guest experience for every taste and budget."

Added Tom Staggs, chairman of Walt Disney Parks and Resorts: "We are always looking for opportunities to expand and enhance our Walt Disney World offerings, and Disney's Art of Animation Resort is a great example of those efforts. This new resort will feature some of our most beloved characters and stories in a unique and special way that we think our guests will really enjoy," Staggs said. "This project also underscores our optimism about the future, as we continue to invest in new experiences for our guests around the globe."

Disney's Art of Animation Resort, the 25th resort at Walt Disney World, will be one-of-a-kind, with themed building exteriors and room interiors, and larger-than-life icons from the animated films in the courtyard areas. To be located next to Disney's Pop Century Resort, all of the themed suites and rooms at Disney's Art of Animation Resort are expected to open by the summer of 2012.
